

Tokyo Sustainable Finance Forum

The Tokyo Sustainable Finance Week will take place from October 3 to 9, 2022, to promote ESG investment and sustainable finance while enhancing Tokyo's presence in these fields, which contribute to building sustainable cities.

Among the programs to take place during the Finance Week is the Tokyo Sustainable Finance Forum ("Forum"), which is intended for domestic and international financial institutions and other entities and will address subjects pertaining to global trends and future perspectives of sustainable finance. The Forum features lectures by experts from both Japan and abroad, with business pitches by fintech companies that are thriving in the sustainable finance sector.
